Professional English

Course content: This course will dive into the nuts and bolts of spoken and written English communication, focussing on a wide range of professional contexts. These will include, but are not limited to, corresponding with academic personell (e.g. writing to potential supervisors, writing to company bosses, etc.), interview settings, academic conference presentations and communication on the job / in the office. The focus throughout will be on communicating clearly, with precision and with confidence. Participants are encouraged to send a pre-submitted text on any topic that interests them beforehand and will be asked to give a short presentation during the course of the workshop on an ongoing academic project.
